Blended learning is an instructional model that combines in-person or remote teacher-led instruction and online instruction to differentiate learning for all students. Job-embedded professional development (PD) integrated with a high-quality and aligned online curriculum is foundational to the success of a blended learning model. To assist school systems in a high-fidelity implementation of blended learning, the Texas Education Agency (TEA) will reimburse school districts and open-enrollment charter schools for blended learning professional development programs from qualifying providers.
